

International Advanced study for Montessori Managers

IAMM

- You are a director of a Montessori school and you feel the need to deepen your vision on Montessori-education.
- You want to combine work, knowledge and inspiration.

Designed for educators, the IAMM is a carefully structured learning path that has been created by AVE.IK as an online alternative to our face-to-face studies. The course has a unique approach: the blended learning method. This is a learning process compiled from various components: theory, practice, research and intervision, which focuses on individual learners. The purpose of this course is to sharpen your research question in relation to your own practice, on the basis of research, input and feedback. You are guided by a personal coach who works with you and guide you carefully through 7 assignments.

Structure of the course

The IAMM course is organized into three phases with seven assignments: a basic phase, an exploratory phase and the research phase. The basic phase comprises the theory in conjunction with contemporary developments. This work is based on the widely held Montessorian vision and new scientific insights. The exploratory part is the phase in which the course is directed towards connecting theory and practice from the various sections. The third part, research, includes each participant's processing of the theory and practice to results in a change plan and a framework for implementation.

Study time

The IAMM course takes around 16 – 26 weeks of study and will be led by personal coaches of the AVE.IK team. The coaches all are scientifically educated and have extensive experience with Montessori education and pedagogy, leadership, brain based education and gifted education. Their capacity to provide you with immediate, practical, relevant and high level support will enrich your learning experience substantially.
